Grand Jury Returns Indictment Against Prominent Citizens Of Texas.

OROZCO KILLED IN POSSE FIGHT
Formerly Was Revolutionary Leader in Mexico; Lived In El Paso.

YAN HORN, TEXAS, OCT. 7.—The Culberson county grand jury today returned an indictment jointly charging the following men with the murder of Pasqual Orozco and his companions: John A. Morin, sheriff of Culberson county; Joel Finlay, A. B. Medley, Dave Allison, George Love, Bob Love, B. N. Love, Prince Love, Pete Wetzel, H. A. Carner, Will Schrock and J. W. Millard.

This case will probably be tried this week here and the record of all proceedings will be forwarded to the state department at Washington.

KILLED AUGUST 26.
Gen. Pasqual Orozco was killed on Monday, August 26, in the Eagle mountains near Van Horn, Texas, together with four of his companions. The others were Jose Delgado, Cristoforo Caballero, Jesus Miguel Terrazas and Andres Sandoval. They were killed by a posse which had been following them for two days after they had stopped at a ranch house and camped.

The bodies of Orozco and his companions were brought to El Paso and given a funeral here by the Mexican friends of the dead man and the bodies buried here. Gen. Orozco's body was placed in the receiving vault of the Evergreen cemetery, where it will remain until it can be taken back to Mexico for final burial.

WISH TO CHANGE INSURANCE METHOD ON CATTLE IN TRANSIT
Austin, Texas, Oct. 7.—Judge William Thompson, of Dallas, general attorney for a number of insurance companies, accompanied by other insurance men, today conferred with the state fire insurance commission relative to obtaining certain rates for insuring live stock in transit to the packing houses and to the stock yards.

At present the rate is based on shipment of 100 head of stock, but the companies want the rate to apply per head. No action has as yet been taken on the matter by the commission.

DELAYS MEETING TO ACT ON MILLION DOLLAR SCHOOL FUND
Austin, Texas, Oct. 7.—The monthly meeting of the state board of education, which is held on the 15th of each month, was today postponed to Wednesday, October 12, on account of the fact that the governor would be out of the city before that time. At this meeting the board is to give consideration to 1908 applications for state aid under the governor's $1,000,000 rural school law.

Smiles For Everybody
WHEN a person is in a smiling mood he is much more apt to spend money than when he is peevish. Smiles breed optimism, and optimism opens the purse strings. The publication then that keeps its readers in good humor ought to be the more productive advertising medium.

The El Paso Herald believes in keeping its readers in good humor, and for that reason it has as remarkable an array of comic artists as any newspaper in the United States. Among them are:

New Premier Will Also Be Foreign Minister; Has Served Two Previous Terms; Venizelos, Former Premier, Says Greece Would See Flag Flying Over Asia Minor Coast; German Minister Visits King.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 7.—Alexander Zaimis today accepted king Constantine's invitation to form a new cabinet, succeeding the ministry of former premier Venizelos. Zaimis has formed a coalition cabinet, representative of all parties, in which he will serve as foreign minister, as well as premier. The cabinet list follows: Premier and foreign minister—M. Zaimis. Minister of the interior—M. Gounaris. Minister of war—Gen. Vassilakis. Minister of marine—Admiral P. Couratlis. Minister of finance—Stephen Dragoumis. Minister of instruction—M. Theodorakis. Minister of justice and communications—D. G. Rallis.

The cabinet members will appear in the chamber Monday. Alexander Zaimis, who has accepted the task of forming a Greek coalition cabinet in succession to the Venizelos ministry, has twice before held the office of prime minister. He is the son of Thrasybulos Zaimis, several times premier and one of the three members of the national delegation designated to offer the crown of Greece to prince George of Denmark, who reigned at Athens as king George and who was the father of Constantine, the present ruler.

German Score in Diplomacy.
Paris, France, Oct. 7.—A special dispatch to the Petit Journal from Athens says the capture by king Constantine and M. Venizelos followed a visit of the German minister to the king immediately after the session of the chamber at which M. Venizelos outlined the policy he expected Greece to follow. Though the allied governments are frankly puzzled and ignorant of what has happened in Greece, it is admitted that somehow or other the German government has scored a diplomatic triumph.

Venizelos Gives Views.
Athens, Greece, Oct. 7.—Former premier Venizelos of Greece, in an interview given just before his cabinet resigned, told of Greece's position in Balkan affairs, of the reasons impelling Greece to war in defense of Serbia, and of the hope that some day soon the "Greeks lining the opposite shore" (Asia Minor) would come under their own flag.

"One thing is absolutely certain," said M. Venizelos. "Greece will ally by the terms of her alliance with Serbia, not only in letter but in spirit to the last man and the last drachma. More the Greek people will unflinchingly remain true to her passed word. The honor of Greece is at stake. You may be certain it will not be betrayed."

"Nor indeed has there ever been at the bottom the slightest wavering about the Greek people respecting their obligation to enter the war in defense of the central empire."

SHIP ATTACKED BY UNKNOWN FEE
Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Oct. 7.—The British freight steamer Melito arrived here today from Tampam, Mexico, and reported that while en route it was attacked at sea by an unknown vessel.

The captain of the Melito reported that soon after leaving Tampam his vessel was attacked by a small, fast, and powerful submarine. The vessel was hit by a projectile which exploded against her side. One sailor was killed and six wounded. Since the internment of the last of the German auxiliary cruisers at Newport News there have been no reports indicating the presence of German warcraft in the Atlantic.

REVENTLOW DEFENDS TURK SLAYING OF ARMENIANS
Amsterdam, Holland, Oct. 7.—Defending the course of Turkey against the Armenians and commenting on the course of the United States in endeavoring to put a stop to the butcheries, count von Reventlow, in the Deutsche Tageszeitung, says:

"There can be no questioning of a third party, with the affairs of our Turkish ally. If the Turkish authorities have it in their power to take vigorous measures against unreliable, blood-thirsty, riotous Armenian elements, it is not only their right, but it is their duty to do so. Turkey can rest assured that Germany will always regard the matter as one concerning Turkey alone."

Former Labor Commissioner Of Texas Is Ordered To Go To Phoenix.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—Joseph P. Meyer, formerly Texas state labor commissioner, has been directed by secretary Wilson of the labor department, it was announced today, to proceed to Phoenix, Ariz., immediately for conference with Gov. Hunt of Arizona on the labor situation in that state. His headquarters are at El Paso.

His instructions direct that he make an investigation of labor conditions such as necessary, and take any steps with relation to the miners' strike in the Clifton district as may be agreed upon at his conference with the governor.

CLIFTON, ARIZ., Oct. 7.—With Gov. W. P. Hunt offering his services as mediator and expressing a willingness to go to El Paso and confer with the mine managers, conditions were today regarded as more favorable for an early settlement of the strike of copper miners in the Clifton-Morenci-Metacalf district.

Gov. Hunt first suggested that a conference with the mine managers be held at Phoenix, but evidently fearing their arrest if they returned to Arizona, they were not inclined to accept the proposal. American miners are ready to meet the mine managers half way, being willing to press their demands but not to resort to violence and an eight hour day and not demanding recognition of the union.

Miners of the Arizona, the Shannon and Detroit Copper companies are affected by the strike.

Refugees Threaten Boyer.
According to a railroad official, Chas. P. Boyer was threatened with violence Wednesday while en route to Phoenix to confer with Gov. Hunt. The railroad official says a number of refugees from Clifton and Morenci boarded the train at Guthrie and backed Boyer into a corner of the coach, when the conductor interfered.

Ranchers Donate Cattle.
Union leaders here announced today that they had received a donation of largely increased by donations of cattle from sympathizing ranchers in this vicinity.

Posters were distributed today about the streets announcing that the business men of Miami have offered to donate a day's proceeds to the strikers. The strikers are also expected to raise funds by special assessments.

100 Leave Morenci.
Those who refused to join were given marching orders. Union men reported that 100 persons left Morenci Wednesday, most of them being English miners.

Insist on Wage Rate.
This procedure was somewhat of a frolic. Everybody in Morenci and Metacalf joined the union, including bankers, storekeepers and their clerks. The sole exception, according to union leaders, was the physician at Metacalf.

Complaints Are Quashed.
The men declared that up to the time of the strike their rate of pay averaged $1.62 per day for the underground men, that when American employers complained, they were stopped with the statement that Mexican labor would be put on the job. When the Mexicans sought increased pay the process was reversed.

Arrive Here From Strike Zone After Getting Managers to Lordsburg; Say Were Beaten With Sticks and Clubs by Strikers; Home of Arizona Copper Company Man Entered and His Nose Broken.

CLIFTON, ARIZ., Oct. 7.—The engine which, with headlight dimmed, raged the three mine managers of the Clifton-Morenci-Metacalf district out of Clifton in their run for El Paso and safety, landed in the city at midnight Wednesday. The roughest kind of treatment was accorded us on Saturday night when we returned to Clifton with our engine, only to be met by gangs of strikers who had discovered the trick which got the managers out to New Mexico territory in the nick of time," they said.

Thomas Simpson, the engineer of the escaping manager's engine, and Walter Penn, his fireman, on the Arizona & New Mexico railroad, are the men, and the story is as follows:

"We were acting under orders, as usual, when we ran engine No. 21 out for the hurryup dash to Lordsburg with Norman Carmichael, J. W. Boyer and Milton H. McLean aboard," said Simpson. "Not only that, but we were acting under instructions from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to which order we both belong. That second fact ought to have been enough to protect us from violence from strikers anywhere."

Hit With Clubs.
"But even though our railroad is not mixed up in this strike of the miners, we sure got our share," he said. "When we started for Lordsburg and had got to the engine in the roundhouse when the trouble dropped on us hard. We had started for Lordsburg and had got to a dark spot, a lonely place, too, when over a score of men, with sticks and clubs, rushed us."

"We recognized several of our assailants, and there is no doubt in our minds that all the men beating us up were striking miners. Not satisfied with what they had done to us that night, the gang came around to our house in the morning, about 10:30, armed with clubs and missiles. It took four deputy sheriffs to keep them away from Penn's house."

Escape In Autos.
"We were lucky this time, however, for we received warning in time to allow us to slip out. An automobile rushed us to Duncan, Ariz., from Clifton, and from there we lit out after we had been joined Wednesday by our families."

"Morgan Merrill, an expressman, was run out of Clifton Sunday morning for no other reason than that he was a friend of ours. El Paso looks good to us just now, and we shall stick here until things quiet down enough so that we can go back to work again."

Watson's Nose Broken.
J. E. Watson of Clifton, with the Arizona Copper company, reached El Paso Wednesday, and says he has a broken nose and multiple scars to show for the beating up he received at Clifton.

"I can hardly walk, certainly without any degree of comfort," he said. "I was attacked after my home had been entered by the back door. Four of them rushed into my room. I used to work with the miners. They were Americans, white men, too. They said they thought I had left. When I said I had not done so up to that time, they lit into me all at once. They started hitting me, and I clung to the porch rail in front of the house. My nose is broken as the result, my face is cut up and I break in every joint."

Denne Goes To Lordsburg.
J. W. Denne, manager of the Shannon Copper company, left El Paso Wednesday night for Lordsburg, N. M., for a conference with his representatives who are reported to have gone there from Clifton to report to the general manager regarding the situation in the strike zone. At the office of the mine managers in the Paso del Norte it was stated that Mr. Denne had come to Lordsburg on private business, which had no connection with the strike. He will return this evening, it was said.

If governor G. W. P. Hunt wishes to confer with the Clifton-Morenci mine managers regarding the strike, he can come to El Paso, where the conference can be held without any danger of the managers being arrested and where the conference could be held without any interference. Milton H. McLean, manager of the Detroit Copper company, declared Thursday morning. This was the reply to Governor Hunt's request that the mine managers go to Phoenix for a conference.

Norman Carmichael, manager of the Arizona Copper company, denied Thursday morning that he had telephoned to Clifton an official at Clifton that he intended to go to Phoenix to confer with governor Hunt. He said this was untrue and that he had no intention of going to Phoenix.

Superintendent Bart Hastings, of the Detroit Copper company, came down from Clifton Wednesday for a conference with Mr. Denne and returned Wednesday night to the camp, according to the mine managers at their office in the Paso del Norte hotel.

Managers Deny.
Mine managers denied the assertion in a dispatch from Clifton that there had been no disorder there since Monday night.

"There were eight explosions of dynamite Monday night," said W. P. Wellman, who took over the Detroit Copper company "the last was shortly before midnight, when I left."

The managers declare that non-union men are being driven out of Morenci, a number having arrived here from there, stating that they had been ordered to leave by the sheriff's office. According to the Clifton-Morenci strike men who talked to Charles P. Meyer while on the train Wednesday, it was denied that the train was boarded by non-union men at Guthrie, while it was admitted that non-union men were prevented from boarding the train by the citizens of Duncan as it drew into that station.

LEADING MEN VISIT PORT HILEY ON BIRTHDAY.
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7.—More than 400 leading men and women in letters and public life gathered here today to attend a banquet tonight in honor of the birthday of James Whitcomb Hiley, American poet. Charles Warren Fairbanks will be toastmaster.
